Hi Darren,

Appreciate you have a couple of urgent matters on today that you are currently managing. Notwithstanding I would be grateful if you can advise of a preferred 30 minute time slot (possibly shorter) this afternoon to discuss the coordination of activities regarding the S47F matter, as reported by Mr Michael WARNER (see below excerpt).

Thanks

Darrell

On 13 April 2016, the following reporting by journalist Michael WARNER, was published:

Dank: I gave Bock peptide

BANNED sports scientist Stephen Dank last night sensationally said he had supplied former Gold Coast Suns star Nathan Bock with the prohibited peptide CJC-1295. Dank told the Herald Sun said he bought the drug at a Sydney compounding pharmacy in December 2010 and took it to the Gold Coast on a plane in a cooler bag packed with dry ice. He said he gave the CJC-1295 to then Suns fitness boss Dean Robinson, who taught Bock how to self-administer it. "I bought it at the Belgrave pharmacy in Sydney and delivered it to Robinson's house," Dank said. "From there, Robinson demonstrated to Bock how to use it and instructed him accordingly. "Asked whether there was any doubt the drug he supplied Bock was the WADA banned CJC-1295, Dank replied: "No. There is no doubt in my mind." Dank's confession came as the Australian Sports Anti-Doping Authority yesterday insisted it was unable to establish whether the drug Bock used was actually CJC-1295. Robinson and Dank worked for the Suns in late 2010 when Bock, the start-up club's star signing, was being treated for an Achilles injury. The pair reunited at Essendon in late 2011 and played key roles in establishing the Bombers' "pharmacologically experimental" drugs program. An ASADA spokesperson yesterday said: "To prove that an athlete has used a prohibited substance, ASADA must be able to prove the substance used by that athlete. ASADA will not bring a case forward when there is insufficient evidence of the substance used." Bock told ASADA in 2013 that he injected himself with a substance given to him by Robinson between December 16, 2010 and January 27, 2011.

Hi Darren,

I have conducted various searches in TRIM to try get my head around the S47F matter. However, appear unable to locate some documents that I would expect to be in TRIM (i.e. related final Show Causes and responses, Infraction Notices, analysis reports, guiding overview document [facts sheet] for S47F matter involving S47F).

Can you advise what TRIM files I may be able to look at to see these.

Thanks

Darrell

Hi Darren and Aaron,

I note a couple of things coming out of the transcript for S47F [REDACTED]

I conducted a very quick search of TRIM but was unable to locate anything concrete regarding this. I did identify some texts with S47F [REDACTED] name involved. Can you confirm if we followed up enquiries regarding this potential defence and if so if there is a statement or similar I can rely upon to refute.

In addition can you confirm I have access to all relevant information.

Thanks

Hi S47F [REDACTED]

Another article re S47F [REDACTED] telling all. I am very keen for him to tell me all - so we can find out what his claims are and investigate accordingly.

Do you want me to chase him up re again seeking a decision regarding the provision of a formal signed affidavit or participation in a formal taped record of interview to detail: his knowledge about the administration of prohibited substances to S47F [REDACTED] 7F [REDACTED] and/or any knowledge he may have about possible anti-doping rule violations against any other parties (i.e. Essendon, Manly, Cronulla, Geelong, Dold Coast).

Hi Darrell,

I discussed this with the A/CEO yesterday afternoon, and we decided that ASADA won't initiate any further contact with [S47F] to chase the statutory declaration he claims to have written and sent. [S47F] has been given clear instructions from ASADA, and it is up to him to action them.

Should a statutory declaration be delivered, we will assess its content at that time, or if [S47F] initiates further contact with ASADA, we can inform him that we are yet to receive his statutory declaration, if that remains the fact at the time of any contact he initiates.

Please log this decision in Wynyard.

Regards,

Simon
